Distinguished Strangers.

The government of Mr. BUCHANAN, hrough its diplomatic agent, Mr. Town-SEND HARRIS, has made arrangements for the importation to this country of two Imperial Commissioners of the Japanese Government, who are to be brought over in the United States steamship Mississippi, transported through the land at the public expense, and astonished by an extraordinary display of American wisdom, power and glory at Washington. They will undoubtedly produce a sensation such as has not been seen since an ugly and stupid little subordinate of the Turkish Government-some say a schoolmaster-AMIN BET by name and addition, was lionized and run after by the emptyheaded of our people, some eight or ten years ago; bamboozled with ceremonies that he could not comprehend; bored with speeches, not a word or a sentiment of which he could understand. Whether the Emperor of Japan, like the Sultan. will turn us off with such as he can most easily spare, or will send some of that class which is not very numerous anywhere-gentlemen-it is not easy to guess. For the sake of the parties, perhaps, he had better send the former. American admiration is apt to be rather fervent than delicate in its manifestations; and from the antics, gasconades, and turkey-cock performances of the--in his own opinion-immensely great Commodore Perry, in his presence, during his visit to Japan, of our taste for trumpery, the Emperor must be pretty well aware. He should take especial care not to send such as are gifted with a quick sense of the ridiculous, or he will be likely never

WHATEVER may be the result of the trial now going on at Washington, there is one lesson which its history will inculcate: that whatever may be the rights of a man in respect to his wife's paramour, to kill him is not the part of wisdem. The fame which the Hon. DANIEL E. Sickles has acquired is not of a kind that is desirable. He must be a very meanspirited man who has any taste for such notoriety. He has undergone considerable physical discomfort, been subjected to some cost, and had the secrets of his household-those matters of which gentlemen are critically conservative-paraded before the whole world. The state of his mind has probably been the reverse of easy: and-in case he is permitted to escape-he has yet to go forth in the world with the indelible mark of the homicide upon him: a conscious object of vulgar and thoughtless curiosity. Whether to be hanged would not be preferable, is a question that different men would probably decide different ways.

to see them return alive.

The great powers of Europe seem progressing toward a state of things in which a war will be inevitable; and this not so much because war is wanted by any party, nor because there is really any thing to fight about, but because, with their stupid diplomacy, and their ridiculous notions of international etiquette, they do not seem to know how to avoid it. Until there is a people, and a public sentiment to counteract the effects of imperial folly, there will be no security against a recurrence of the old games of war and bloodshed.

IT appears that the Hon. DANIEL E. Sickles, having availed himself of his wife's confession, is now anxious to realize the benefit of the idea that he was opposed to its presentation and consequent publication. This may be called cutting it rather fat.

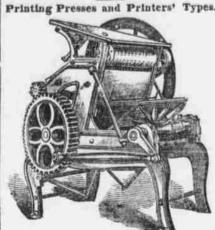

THE NEW AMERICAN GUN .- The N. Y. Post says: The gun, if half the size, half the length, and less than one third the weight, of those in present use, will perform more efficient service. It does not heat so quick, and, when heated, will cool quicker. It has been found almost an impossibility to explode it. It will enable the artilled. enable the artillery service to be more effectual at half the present cost,—reducing the number of men and horses fifty per cent.—with, of course, a proportionate reduction in expense. The inventor, for certain reasons, has not yet made public either his invention or his name in connection with it.

The venerable Washington Irving was made the recipient of a beautiful tribute of regard from his neighbors, on the 3d instant—the an-niversary of his seventy-sixth birthday. From most of them he received offerings of flowers, visits, and greetings. Although he has suffered from the effect of advancing age, he is now in tolerable health. He has been enabled to put the finishing touch to his Life of Washington, and now settles himself comfortably in his easy chair, to enjoy the pleasures afforded by an unusual long and uninterruptedly brill-iant and successful life devoted to literature. A beautiful characteris Mr. Washington Irving. | Special Notices.

RAILBOAD COMPRTITION .- Says the New York RAILROAD COMPRITION.—Says the New York Tribune: The railway fight for business over the lines from New York to the West, contin-ues with undiminished vigor. Cattle are now taken from Chicago to New York, vie the Michigan Central and New York Central, at four dollars per head. The former price was ten dollars per head. It is stated also that the New York Central is taking fourth-class freight to Cincipnati at this transparency hundred to Cincinnati at thirty-five cents per hundred.

GOVERNOR MEDARY .- Yesterday's Columbus Statesman has the following: Governor Medary arrived at Columbus last night from Kansas, and we feel certain that he will receive a hearty welcome here from all our citizens. His administration of sffairs in Kansas has been eminently successful, and beneficial to the best interests of the people. It has been marked by wisdom, moderation and firmness; and has entitled him to the respect and esteem of men of all parties in that territory.

HOME INTERESTS.

In very many of our exchanges we see conspicuously inserted a notice to the effect that at the offices where the said papers are printed, may be found all the necessary requisites for doing job printing; and the most prominent feature of the said notices is the announcement that they have "one of Day's Medal Jobbers." This, it seems, is regarded as conclusive evidence that they can do good work, and at least as cheap as at any other office. The celebrity of these Presses has induced us to procure an engraving of the same, which printers and others familiar with press-work will understand. The platen is hung by a toggle-joint, operated by a rock-shaft in such a manner as to bring the toggle-joint and the pitman-bearings near their centers at the moment of contact with the form, and at the same time effecting a pauce in the working of the platen, which gives time to impart ink to the paper when running at a high speed. It will be seen that, as the platen approaches the types, the press secumulates power, and expends its greatest degree of force just at the time of giving the impression, and as the force is applied at the center of the platen at the exact point where it meets the greatest resistance, all danger of its springing is obviated.

The mechanical arrangement for throwing all the available power of the machine upon the platen at the precise moment it is wanted. in connection with the balance-wheel for carrying the wrist past its center, admits of its being easily operated by a crank or treadle, even when printing on large-sized forms. The inking-rollers are so arranged, that, by the simple turning of a set-screw at either end. they can be adapted to any kind of printing, from the most delicate open work to the heaviest kind of posters, and the ink-fountain' is readily adjusted to give the requisite supply of ink at all points on the rollers. The contrivance for carrying the inking-rollers over the face of the types at the proper moment is a novel and very effective piece of mechanism. This press is particularly adapted to small offices. It runs remarkably smooth, makes little noise, and causes no jar in the room or

In addition to the above, the firm of W. T. & S. D. DAY & Co., now at No. 173, 175 and 177 West Second street, this city, manufacture the common Washington Press and the Foster Press. The chief peculiarity of the last-named is that the platen is fixed, while the bed has a vertical as well as a horizontal movement, and is inclined, as well as the ribs or way on which the bed runs, so that when the bed is drawn forward under the platen, it is in its progress made to rise enough to reduce the necessary lifting action of the toggle-joint one-half, and thus to allow an increased leverage of the toggle at the close of the stroke, by this means materially lessening the labor of the pressman.

The handle is attached to a shaft, which passes downward below the ribs, in order to communicate motion to the toggle movement beneath them. The shaft is journaled vertically to the standard by lugs, from which projects an arm, forming a section of the toggle. The other section is socketed in the upper part of one limb of the tricket-toggle, while the other limb is socketed to the under side of the bars or ribs, which are hinged upon the

The rounce has bearings in care attached to the bottom of the way-bars, and the clamp, which holds the rear rounce-strap, is made to serve also the purpose of a rest for the heel of the tympan, when the latter is thrown back. This Press possesses some excellent features, which commend it to the attention of printers.

This firm also manufacture Proof Presses. Card Presses, Label Presses, Copper Plate. Lithographic and Standing Presses; all of which are supposed to be equal to the best.

These gentlemen were pioneers in the man ufacture of wood type in the West, having embarked in the enterprise some fifteen years ago, and from a small business have, by energy and perseverance, succeeded in building up an extensive trade. They have employed, during the past four years, twenty men in this department alone. A little more than a year since they succeeded to the business of J. D. FOSTER & Co., of this city, and are now extensively engaged in the manufacture of Printing Presser and other Printing Material. They are, also, agents for several first-class Type Founderies thus recuring every facility for supplying the craft with every thing requisite in the Printing business. Their extensive arrangements for carrying on their business require the services of about forty hands, when in full operation They appear to appreciate the wants of printers, and are from time to time making such improvements in their manufactures as the age of progress demands. Bishop's Pictures-None Better-and at prices to suit all; No. 58 Fourth street, beeen Walnut and Vine.

The above is a representation of the Sewing Machines, manufactured by Messrs. Ladd, WERSTER & Co., and sold in this city, at No. West Fourth street, by the gentlemanly agent of the firm of Mr. G. C. KNIFFIN. These machines are invaluable acquisitions to families who have much sewing-indeed they are specially adapted for family use. Dress Makers avail themselves very largely of their help-as they are easily managed (owing to the simplicity of their construction,) and will operate with equal facility upon all kinds of material-making, invariably, a regular and unlform stitch.

Burnett's Cocoaine .-- We are sorry to perceive that dealers have stooped to the unfairness of attempting to deprive Messrs. JOSEPH BURNETT & Co. of the just reward of their skill and enterprise. An article is offered in the market as the justly celebrated and very valuable "Cocoaine," while it is quite another affair, made in New York, and called, to avoid a positive imitation, "Cocoine."

This is a poor subterfuge, and should not be suffered to be practiced to the injury of the very respectable and responsible gentlemen, who have devoted so much time, care and capital to inventing and making known the genuine article,-Boston Post.

Cincinnati, February 15, 1859.

About a month ago I called at Dr. Ayer's "Throat and Lung Institute," 30 West Fourth street, for treatment for Tonsilitis and Chronic Inflammation of the Throat. The tonsils and uvula (or palate) were so much enlarged that there seemed to be but one course to pursue, and that was to cut them off; this I had been told by other physicians, who had also candidly told me they could not cure me. Dr. Ayer made a careful examination and pronounced excision unnecessary, and prescribed Medicated Inhalation and topical applications, with general treatment, and the result is a perfect Traumph! The inflammation has been allayed, and the tonsils and palate reduced to their ratural size and position. I now have no screpess or difficulty whatever of the throat, and Prezimant I am now prescribed which is a perfect to their ratural size and position. ness or difficulty whatever of the threat, and regalest at I AM NOW PERFECTLY WELL.

I cordially commend Dr. Ayeras a skilliful and competent physician in his speciality, and worthy of all confidence. His mode of treatment is rational, pleasant, and certainly in my case successful, and I have every reason to believe the Doctor is equally successful in all other cases while I have been under treatment at the Institute.

Bosrow, July 19, 1837.

Misses. J. Burnert & Co.—I can not refuse to state the salutary effect in my own aggravated case, of your excellent Hair Oil.—Cocosine.

For many months my hair had been falling off, until I was fearful of iosing it entirely. The skin upon my head became gradually more and more inflamed, so that I could not touch it without pain. This irritated condition I attributed to the use of various advertised hair washes, which I have since been told contain camphene spirit.

By the advice of my physician, to whom you had shown your process of purifying the Oil, I commenced its use the last week in June. The first application allayed the itching and irritation; in three or four days the redness and tenderness disappeared—the hair caused to fall, and I have now a thick growth of new hair. I trust that others, similarly affected, will be induced to try the same remedy.

Yours, very truly, SUSAN B. POPE.
